Squirrel wants to make blueberry cookies for Bear's birthday. She plans to pick blueberries, but her friends Fox, Duck, and Doe need help. She is very generous and likes helping her friends but doesn't have the courage to tell them she had other plans.

After helping them all day, it's night, and she still hasn't picked the blueberries. She goes into the forest at night but doesn't return by morning, making her friends worry.

The story teaches little ones about speaking up and saying no.

1 ENG: What does the squirrel want to do and why can't she do it?
ESP: ¿Qué quiere hacer la ardilla y por qué no puede hacerlo?

2 ENG: Can you think of a time when you got shy and said yes to something you didn't want to do?
ESP: ¿Puedes pensar en un momento en que te pusiste tímido y dijiste que sí a algo que no querías hacer?

3 ENG: Did the squirrel end up expressing how he really felt? How did he feel about that?
ESP: ¿Terminó la ardilla expresando lo que realmente sentía? ¿Cómo se sintió al respecto?
